The Honors Transfer Fellowship

The Honors Transfer Fellowship is the highest award given to a transfer student in the Honors College at Middle Tennessee State University. Each year, fifteen (15) applicants are chosen to become Honors Transfer Fellows. Each class comprises Fellows with similar abilities, but Fellows are diverse in terms of interests, experiences, and professional aspirations. Characteristically, they possess high aspirations and strong records of scholarship, and they have repeatedly demonstrated special talents, leadership skills, and community-mindedness. Ideally, each possesses most, if not all, of the virtues espoused by the Honors College: Honor, Commitment, Integrity, Discipline, Faith, Curiosity, Character, and Creativity.

The benefits of being an Honors Transfer Fellow are many. The foremost is the offer of a rich education that can provide a superior foundation for graduate school or professional school (e.g., medicine, law, theology). The Honors Transfer Fellowship provides (1) $3,500 a semester for up to four semesters; (2) special consideration for study-abroad scholarships; (3) access to the resources of the Undergraduate Fellowships Office, which nominates Honors College students and others for prestigious national and international fellowships (e.g., Fulbright, Rhodes, Truman, Goldwater); (4) access to special lectures and events sponsored by the Honors College; (5) support for preparation and admission to graduate or professional schools; and (6) early registration privileges. Honors Transfer Fellowships are automatically renewed for up to four semesters, provided that the student meets the benchmarks and responsibilities of the award (described below).

Admission of Honors Transfer Fellows

In order to compete for an Honors Transfer Fellowship, an applicant must (1) apply for undergraduate admission to Middle Tennessee State University (www.mtsu.edu/admisn); (2) complete this application; (3) have a college or university GPA of at least 3.5; (4) be on track to have completed at least 60 credit hours of college work before fall classes (although priority will be given to those who have completed two-year degrees, students who transferred to MTSU after freshman year are eligible to apply after sophomore year); (5) provide an official transcript of all college and university work completed; and (6) write an essay on the topic found in part B on page 4. These are minimal requirements—successful applicants will generally equal or surpass the qualifications required for other MTSU academic scholarships. MTSU is especially open to applications from people with life experiences such as travel, community service, or special challenges and varied perspectives.

The deadline for submission of this completed application is February 15 of the year before fall enrollment. Successful applicants will be notified of their acceptance during March or April. With this notification will come an Acceptance Form for the student to complete. In the Acceptance Form, the student makes a firm commitment to accept (or reject) the fellowship offer by May 1 and to accept the responsibilities of an Honors Transfer Fellow.

Responsibilities of Honors Transfer Fellows

In accepting an Honors Transfer Fellowship, a candidate assumes several responsibilities. Among these is a pledge to (1) uphold the ideals espoused in the Honors Creed, (2) participate fully in a specially designed Transfer Fellowship Seminar during the first semester, and (3) progress toward graduation according to benchmarks set by the Honors College.

Benchmarks of progress include

- completion of a minimum of a 3-hour seminar, one Honors Lecture Series, and one other Honors elective during the first two semesters;
- registration for Honors Thesis Tutorial (UH 4900) in the second or third semester of enrollment at MTSU and Honors Independant Research (the thesis, UH 4950) by the first or second semester of the senior year;
- completion of all requirements for graduation with University Honors (or Distinction in University Honors) by the end of the senior year; and
- maintenance of a continuing cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 3.25 (on a 4.0 scale) on all courses while a Transfer Fellow at MTSU.

Failure to meet progression expectations may result in a permanent loss of privileges and financial aid associated with the Honors Transfer Fellowship.
