The Star-Spangled Banner

Lyrics by Francis Scott Key

Music by John Stafford Smith

O say, can you see by the dawn's early light what so proudly we hailed at the twillight's last gleaming? Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the perilous fight o'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming? And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air, gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there. O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Murfreesboro, Tennessee

Middle Tennessee State University has awarded 168,626 degrees since its inception in 1911. Students have received associate, bachelor’s, master’s, educational specialist, and doctoral degrees. Our first Doctor of Arts degrees were conferred on December 22, 1972; the first Educational Specialist degrees on December 20, 1974; the first Doctor of Philosophy degrees on May 10, 2003; and the first Doctor of Education degrees on August 6, 2016.

There have been 392 Doctor of Arts degrees, 2,169 Educational Specialist degrees, 470 Doctor of Philosophy degrees, and 41 Doctor of Education degrees awarded.
On behalf of the Middle Tennessee State University National Alumni Association, I congratulate you on joining a very special group. You have now moved from being a student to joining more than 140,000 MTSU alumni. As an alum, you are a vital part of the Middle Tennessee State University family. We count on you to represent us to this nation and the world. We hope that your experiences as a student will serve you well in the future.

Always be proud of your alma mater and stay connected to your University. To be involved in the Alumni Association, please contact the Office of Alumni Relations at 1-800-533-MTSU (6878) or visit mtalumni.com.

Welcome to the future and to your National Alumni Association.

Originally a medieval knight’s weapon, the mace evolved into a symbol of royal scepters in various crown jewel collections. Large versions of the scepter have come to represent the power and authority of institutions such as our University. The mace measures 50 inches in length and is made of Tennessee cherry wood embellished with sterling silver and lapis lazuli. The Tennessee flower, the iris, denotes the public the University serves who, by their loyalty, give it strength and power. The leaves form a crown to symbolize the ennobling achievements of our graduates. Tennessee freshwater pearls, the official state gem, suggest the inestimable value of inquiring minds. The streamer on the wooden shaft carries the names by which the University has been known since its founding. The finial at the base of the mace is a stylized nut, representing the seed from which springs the mighty tree of those committed to lifelong learning.

The chain of office worn by the president is made of sterling silver. The lapis lazuli gems, mounted on scroll shapes, represent the colleges within the University. The knotted components depict the interdependence of knowledge and the various academic programs of MTSU. The lapis lazuli and sterling represent the University colors of blue and white. The Great Seal of the State of Tennessee embellishes the medallion suspended from the chain, representing the University as part of the Tennessee higher education system.

These unique emblems of authority were designed and crafted by Professor Klaus Kallenberger, formerly of the Art Department. The mace and chain of office are a generous gift to the University from the MTSU Foundation.
Academic Regalia

The black gowns and colorful hoods traditionally worn in Middle Tennessee State University Commencement ceremonies have their origins in the Middle Ages.

A statute in England in 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” wear gowns. In the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Scholars were often clerics, as well, and they adopted costumes similar to those of monastic orders. While the special attire covered rank or social status, thus lending a uniform look to ceremonies, it also served another purpose: warmth in drafty, unheated buildings.

As the universities began to pass from the control of the church, colors often were added to the somber robes and hoods, eventually signifying the degrees and specializations.

The cut of the gown, which is usually black, also varies with the degree held—pointed sleeves for the bachelor’s degree; long, closed sleeves with a slit in the arm for the master’s degree; and round, open sleeves for the doctoral degree. While the bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no ornamentation, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three velvet bars across the sleeves.

At Middle Tennessee, hoods are worn by holders of the master’s and doctoral degrees, with the latter being longer. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the universities that conferred the degrees; thus, holders of degrees from MTSU wear hoods lined in blue and white. The velvet edging on the hood, and often the velvet edging on the gown, represents the wearer’s major academic field. Further, the velvet bars on the sleeves may be either black or the same color as the discipline color of the hood. Colors associated with various subjects follow:

Agriculture - Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities - White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business - Drab
Criminal Justice - Midnight Blue
Economics - Copper
Education - Light Blue
Fine Arts - Brown
Home Economics - Maroon
Journalism - Crimson
Law - Purple
Library Science - Lemon
Music - Pink
Nursing - Apricot
Oratory (Speech) - Silver Gray
Philosophy - Dark Blue
Physical Education - Sage Green
Science - Golden Yellow
Social Work - Citrine

The black cap, either a mortarboard or a tam, is customarily worn. There is no general rule for the position of the tassel. In practice at Middle Tennessee State University, the tassel is worn on the right. It may be shifted to the left after the degree is awarded. Men may remove their caps during the prayer, the playing of the alma mater, and the commencement address.

Undergraduate Latin honor graduates are distinguished by the stoles added to their gowns based upon the inclusive GPA: gold for those graduating summa cum laude, 3.90 to 4.0; silver for magna cum laude, 3.75 to 3.89; and white for cum laude, 3.50 to 3.74.

Graduating from the University Honors College is an additional merit awarded to students who have completed the Honors program, defended a thesis, and have a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher. Graduates of the University Honors College who have completed at least 29 hours with a 3.25 average in the Honors program will receive blue and white cords. Those who have maintained a minimum average of 3.65 in the Honors program are graduating the University Honors College with distinction.

Since 1993, graduates of the University Honors College have received the official Honors medallion in recognition of their final thesis defense and completion of special requirements of the college. The medallion is a replica of the official seal of the University Honors College and depicts a lighted torch, three Ionic columns, and a lightning bolt. Respectively, these symbolize the search for truth and knowledge, the stability and unwavering commitment to pursuing knowledge, and the flash of enlightenment or creative energy.

Some academic honor societies and programs may provide cords, ribbons, medallions, or lapel pins designating the achievement and involvement of their members.

Military veteran students are distinguished by specially designed red stoles in recognition of their admirable service to their country.

Experiential Learning Scholars are distinguished by blue, silver, and white cords. These scholars completed
The banners displayed at Commencement represent the University; its nine colleges (Basic and Applied Sciences, Behavioral and Health Sciences, Business, Education, Liberal Arts, Media and Entertainment, Graduate Studies, University College, and University Honors); Walker Library; and the Faculty Senate. Art Professor Janet Higgins, her student Kristi Baughman, and Darrell Callis Burks, designer in Creative Marketing Solutions and 2000 B.F.A. graduate, designed and executed the banners. The colors used in each banner represent disciplines within the colleges. The University seal appears in the center of each banner, symbolizing that the whole is greater than any of its parts.

International students may wear colorful sashes that represent their country of origin. Each sash symbolizes, in color and design, their country’s flag.

Undergraduate Research students graduating with Distinction are wearing a dark blue, light blue, and white cord. These students graduating with Scholar Distinction are also wearing a medallion to recognize their completion of a research or creative project, its dissemination to the MTSU campus and/or a nationally recognized conference, and their engagement in promoting undergraduate research to the campus.

Most American colleges and universities have adopted a uniform code. However, at any academic gathering, costumes often are worn that are not described by these guidelines. Some of these may be from foreign universities, with others from American institutions that have preferred to remain with the European tradition of allowing each school to determine its own costume. Silver medallions worn by faculty denote 15 years of service, and gold medallions represent 25 years.

EXL-designated hands-on learning courses, an off-campus service activity, an on-campus service activity, and a portfolio of reflections on their EXL activities. The EXL program provides students with opportunities for hands-on experience, valuable networking, and an opportunity to explore career paths through real-world experience.

MT Engage Scholars are distinguished by royal blue, white, and gold cords. These students completed MT Engage-designated courses that promote active learning and integrated their learning by reflecting on connections across disciplines and between their academic and cocurricular experiences. MT Engage students showcased their integrative learning in an ePortfolio that documented their community and campus involvement as well as the academic knowledge and skills they gained during their time at MTSU.

HONORARY BANNER CARRIERS

College of Basic and Applied Sciences

Dr. Alyson E. Lischka, associate professor in the Department of Mathematical Sciences, has a B.S. in Mathematics from Michigan State University, an M.S. in Secondary Mathematics Education from Georgia State University, and an Ed.S. and Ed.D. in Teacher Leadership for Learning with a concentration in Adolescent Mathematics from Kennesaw State University.

Since joining the Mathematics Education group in the Department of Mathematical Sciences in 2013, she has taught content and methods courses for prospective mathematics teachers, supervised secondary mathematics student teachers, and provided mentoring and course instruction for the Mathematics and Science Education Ph.D. program. Her published research and scholarship focus on supporting prospective and practicing mathematics teachers in developing effective mathematics teaching practices.

Since 2016, Lischka has served on the leadership team for the Mathematics Teacher Education Partnership, a national consortium of universities and school systems working to transform secondary mathematics teacher preparation programs. In her work with the MTE Partnership, she leads the research action cluster called MODULE(S2), which stands for Mathematics of Doing, Understanding, Learning, and Educating for Secondary Schools. The group is working to improve mathematics content courses for prospective secondary mathematics teachers.

Lischka has served on the editorial teams for two books in the Association of Mathematics Teacher Educators’ Professional Book Series and participates in service roles in national organizations. Locally, she served as a leader for Project IMPACT, a six-year professional learning project supporting over 200 K–8 mathematics teachers in several area school systems. She is also the faculty advisor and treasurer for the MTSU Wesley Foundation board of directors.

College of Behavioral and Health Sciences

Dr. Sandy Neal earned her bachelor’s (1976) and master’s (1977) from MTSU, and completed her doctorate at the University of Tennessee. She is certified through the...
National Commission for Health Education Credentialing. Throughout her tenure in the Department of Health and Human Performance, she has been a role model and mentor for numerous faculty and students. Neal also has been instrumental in developing and revising new health programs and curricula.

Neal was a four-year letter-winner in tennis at MTSU, having made the team as a walk-on in 1972. She improved to the point that she played No. 1 singles and doubles for the Lady Raiders. In 1975, MTSU awarded scholarships to female athletes for the first time in school history, and Neal was a recipient. After graduation, she became head coach of the women's tennis team (1976–92), leading the Lady Raiders to both Ohio Valley Conference regular-season and tournament championships in 1980, '82 and '90. Neal was named OVC Coach of the Year five times (1980, '82, '89, '90, '91) and coached 16 all-conference players and one All-American. Neal also took on the responsibility of coaching the MTSU volleyball team during its first two seasons and is credited with beginning the program.

Jennings A. Jones College of Business

Dr. Wisarut “Wis” Suwanprasert is an assistant professor in the Department of Economics and Finance. He earned a B.S. in Economics from Chulalongkorn University in Thailand in 2010, an M.S. in Economics from the University of Wisconsin–Madison in 2012, and a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Wisconsin–Madison in 2016. Prior to joining MTSU, Suwanprasert was a visiting assistant professor at Vanderbilt University. He is internationally recognized and regularly joins the Bank of Thailand as a visiting research fellow.

Suwanprasert received the 2020–21 Bridgestone Americas Distinguished Lecturer award for his excellence in teaching. He currently teaches Microeconomics and Managerial Economics in the undergraduate Economics program and International Economics in the Ph.D. program. He also serves on the Department of Economics and Finance’s scholarship committee and the Jones College of Business’ undergraduate curriculum committee.

His primary area of research focuses on the World Trade Organization’s rules on trade agreements, the effect of trade policy on unemployment, and export promotion policies. His research has been published in several journals, including Review of International Economics, International Economic Journal, The B.E. Journal of Theoretical Economics, and Economics Letters.

College of Education

Dr. Bonnie Barksdale, an assistant professor, earned a B.S. in Early Childhood Education from Texas Woman’s University, a master’s in Curriculum and Instruction with an emphasis in elementary literacy from Texas Christian University, and a Ph.D. in Reading Education from Texas Woman’s University in 2018. Prior to joining the MTSU Elementary and Special Education faculty, she worked in public school systems in Texas and Illinois as an elementary classroom teacher, literacy specialist, and literacy coach.

In addition to teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, Barksdale is an active researcher and presents her work at local, state, and national level conferences. Barksdale’s current research focuses on writing instruction in primary grade classrooms, as well as adaptive teaching decisions during that instruction. Her research has been published in journals such as Journal of Research in Childhood Education and Tennessee Literacy Journal.

Faculty Senate

Dr. Rick Cottle, the 2020–21 Faculty Senate president, is a veteran of the textile industry for more than 25 years and an associate professor for the Department of Human Sciences. He earned a B.S. from Auburn University in 1984, an M.B.A. from the University of Phoenix in 2003, and a Ph.D. from Auburn University in 2012. Cottle joined MTSU’s College of Behavioral and Health Sciences in 2013 and teaches all aspects of the textile industry to apparel and interior design students.

His research focuses on three-dimensional body scanning as it pertains to the fit of apparel items to the human body, human health, and human wellness. Cottle’s teaching philosophy includes human, environmental, and economic sustainability.

College of Graduate Studies

Dr. Jennifer J. Kaplan is the director of the Ph.D. program in Mathematics and Science Education (MSE) and an associate professor in the Department of Mathematical Sciences at MTSU. As the director of the MSE program, Kaplan has overseen revisions to the curriculum and preliminary examination procedures in addition to providing oversight and mentorship to the 35 students in the program. At MTSU, she has taught both the Residency and Research seminars for incoming students in the Ph.D. program, as well as an undergraduate statistics course.

Kaplan’s research field is statistics education, specifically the study of learning and teaching of statistics at the undergraduate level. She has a passion for research that helps create a statistically literate citizenry. Prior to her arrival at MTSU, Kaplan was an associate professor in the Department of Statistics at the University of Georgia, where she taught service statistics courses for graduate students across the science disciplines, trained graduate students in statistics, and taught pre-service mathematics teachers to teach statistics.

Kaplan has been the principal investigator on three National Science Foundation-funded grants, all of which used research on student learning in statistics to provide faculty or graduate students professional development for teaching statistics. She has graduated four Ph.D. students and eight M.S. students and has published 25 peer-reviewed publications, 10 with her graduate students as co-authors. In addition, Kaplan has given 40 presentations at regional, national, and international conferences and currently serves as the editor of the Statistics Education Research Journal.

College of Liberal Arts

Dr. Meredith Huey Dye joined the faculty of Middle Tennessee State University in 2008 after receiving her Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of Georgia. She has taught courses in sociology, criminology, research methods, and statistics at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Dye serves as the undergraduate program director for Sociology and is advisor for the Criminology minor. She regularly works with students in Women and Gender Studies, Honors, and the Sociology graduate program on research projects and theses. Her own research centers on the experiences of incarcerated individuals, with a specific focus on suicide in prison and women serving life sentences. She is the co-author of Women Liars: Lives Before, Behind, and Beyond Bars.

College of Media and Entertainment

Mr. Rodrigo Gómez, a native of Colombia, worked for over 14 years for Mattel/Fisher-Price as a producer and director of animated cartoons for children, corporate videos, and commercials prior to joining MTSU. Gomez is passionate about the creative process of animation and the search for new stories to create innovative visuals. He enjoys working with students on exploring their most creative ideas while striving for the highest level of quality. He is author of the children’s book Milly & Roots: The Headscarf, and he is producer of a mini web series on autism titled “Percy Talks.”

Gomez holds a bachelor’s degree in Graphic Design from the National University of Colombia and a master’s degree in Computer Animation from the Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, New York. He has taught in multiple colleges in his native Colombia and the United States.

University Honors College

Dr. Stacy Fields is an assistant professor in the Department of Elementary and Special Education. She earned her B.S. in Elementary Education from Union University, M.Ed. from Lipscomb University in Teaching, Leading, and Learning, and Ph.D. from Middle Tennessee State University in Literacy Studies.

Fields teaches undergraduate and graduate courses with a focus in middle grades literacy, assessment, and classroom management. Her research interests include K–12 literacy, meta-analysis, and adolescent writing, specifically instructional strategies for English Language Learners (ELL). Fields was awarded the Clouse-Elrod Education Research Award and the Herbert M. Handley Outstanding Dissertation Award for her work in ELL adolescent writing research.

University College

Mr. Thomas Torku is a lecturer teaching prescribed mathematics courses in the University Studies Department. He earned a bachelor’s degree in Mathematics with a Business minor from the University of Cape Coast, in Ghana. Torku obtained his master’s in Mathematical Sciences from East Tennessee State University and is pursuing a Ph.D. in Computational Science at Middle Tennessee State University.

In addition to teaching and research, Torku has assisted students at various levels. He has served as a volunteer tutor for mathematics students at Central Magnet School in Murfreesboro. His passion to enhance the success of all students motivated his involvement with MTSU’s Scholars Academy program in summer 2018 and summer 2019. Presently, he serves as a faculty mentor in the Mathematics and Mentoring Grant Program.

James E. Walker Library

Ms. Susan Martin holds an A.B. in American Studies and French from Mount Holyoke College and an M.S. in Library and Information Science from Simmons College. She serves as the Collection Development and Management (CDM) department chair in the James E. Walker Library. She provides leadership for CDM, which includes Acquisitions, Cataloging, Continuing Resources, Special Collections, Materials Budget, Binding/Book Repair, Discovery Services, Library Systems, and Collection Assessment.

Immediately prior to this position, she served as the head of Acquisitions Services at The University of Chicago Library and as acquisitions librarian at Texas Women’s University. Her other experiences include writing and editing for an internet startup and working as a professional librarian in a variety of departments: acquisitions, cataloging, circulation, and reference.

She has presented and written on workflow automation, open access, and staff recruitment. Her research interests include staff recruitment, training, and retention, as well as workflow analysis and automation. She is actively involved with the FOLIO project, serving as convener of the Acquisitions Small Group, and is active in CORE, a division of the American Library Association, serving as chair and member of several interest groups and committees.

Alma Mater

words and music by Charles Douglas Williams (B.M. '54)

We sing thy praises faithful guide of youth;

Through all the ages affirmed and strong in truth.

Alma Mater Middle Tennessee

We proudly offer our hearts in loyalty.
