Alumni Association President

On behalf of the Middle Tennessee State University National Alumni Association, I congratulate you on joining our international network of more than 150,000 MTSU alumni. As a student, you embraced MTSU's core values of honesty and integrity, respect for diversity, engagement in the community, and commitment to nonviolence. As an alum, we hope that you represent our alma mater well throughout the world, actively contribute to your field, and are civically engaged.

Always be proud of the excellent education you received here and remain connected to your faculty and fellow alumni. Stay involved with the Alumni Association by following MTSU Alumni on social media, calling the Office of Alumni Relations at 1-800-533-MTSU (6878), and visiting mtalumni.com.

Take time today to reflect on how your life was changed while at MTSU and celebrate the hard work you put in to earn your degree. Congratulations again!

Honorary Doctorate

Mr. John Floyd
Founder and Owner
Ole South Properties

At age 23, John Floyd began buying rental property as an investment. Through those purchases he met real estate developer Howard Wall, who encouraged Floyd to leave his job in the grocery business and enter a riskier, but more lucrative, career in real estate.

Floyd took that advice and joined Snow and Wall Realtors in 1985. A year later, he began his homebuilding business, Ole South Properties. Floyd remained a top salesperson for Snow and Wall for several years before turning his attention fully to homebuilding and development.

By 2001, Ole South Properties was the largest independent homebuilder in Tennessee, with a focus on providing affordable housing to first-time homebuyers. Floyd's strategy is to work with landowners and finance companies to create the product—quality homes at an affordable price—and the tools for purchasing it.

Ole South has sold more than 15,000 homes since 1986 and has ranked among the Top 100 Home Builders in the U.S. for 18 years. Floyd has received many honors along the way, including Tennessee Builder of the Year in 2007. The Rutherford County Chamber of Commerce named him Business Person of the Year in 2001 and honored him as a Business Legend in 2015, the year he was inducted into the Tennessee Home Builders Association Hall of Fame.

In partnership with the Rutherford County Homebuilders Association, Floyd and Ole South Properties supplied labor and materials for the 2008 construction of Oakland High School's building trades vocational building. In Spring Hill, he deeded land to the city for a new firehall in 2004; he also donated the property where Marvin Wright Elementary School was built.

One of Floyd's proudest accomplishments is the John D. Floyd Charitable Foundation, which has donated $4.5 million since its inception in 2002. The fund supports many charities, including the Boys & Girls Club, the Good Shepherd Children's Home, and the Child Advocacy Center. Floyd also contributes to Special Kids, Discovery Center at Murfree Spring, Alive Hospice, Second Harvest Food Bank, the MTSU Foundation, Greenhouse Ministries, and more.

Floyd, a past president of the Rutherford County Homebuilders Association, also gives generously to his community through service. He is on the Special Kids Endowment Board, and previously he has served on the Tennessee Homebuilders Advisory Board for the Tennessee Housing Development Agency, the Murfreesboro Housing Authority Board, the Murfreesboro City Schools Foundation, and the boards for United Way and the Boys & Girls Club.

Commencement Speaker

Mr. Ralph J. Schulz Jr.

President and CEO

Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce

Ralph Schulz is president and CEO of the Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce, one of Middle Tennessee's oldest and largest business federations. Schulz joined the chamber in 2006, following a 30-year career in nonprofit management, marketing, and fundraising.

During his tenure, the chamber played a key role in helping the region emerge from the 2007 recession to a period of unprecedented growth. The chamber also has led the movement to improve public school performance through the creation of the Academies of Nashville, established the Moving Forward initiative to ensure the creation of a regional transportation solution through a cohesive community effort, and developed into a respected publisher of data on the Nashville Metropolitan Statistical Area with the annual publication of the Vital Signs report.

Schulz currently serves on numerous civic and nonprofit boards, including the Nashville Health Care Council, Tennessee Business Roundtable, NashvilleHealth, Western Governors University advisory board, and Fort Campbell Historical Foundation board of trustees. He is a past board member of the Nashville Predators Foundation, Music City Music Council, Alignment Nashville, Center for Nonprofit Management, and Father Ryan High School. He has been involved with the Transit Alliance of Middle Tennessee and served on the Citizens Advisory Committee for Bus Rapid Transit, MTA's Strategic Plan Advisory Committee, the NashvilleNEXT Steering Committee, and the Major League Soccer to Nashville advisory committee. He has participated in Leadership Nashville, Leadership Middle Tennessee, and Leadership Music. He was appointed as a Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army for Tennessee-South in 2020.

Before joining the chamber, Schulz spent six years as CEO of the Adventure Science Center in Nashville, focusing the team on turning around an aging, science-based nonprofit for children into a leading destination for young people, with growing attendance, revamped exhibits, successful capital campaigns, and stronger community support.

He began his career in nonprofit management when he joined the staff of Junior Achievement of Nashville, eventually spending 20 years in leadership on a local and national level.

Schulz, a graduate of the University of Tennessee, resides in Nashville with his wife, LEEANNE. They have four children and seven grandchildren.

Mace and Chain of Office

Originally a medieval knight's weapon, the mace evolved into a symbol of royal scepters in various crown jewel collections. Large versions of the scepter have come to represent the power and authority of institutions such as our University. The mace measures 50 inches in length and is made of Tennessee cherry wood embellished with sterling silver and lapis lazuli. The Tennessee flower, the iris, denotes the public the University serves who, by their loyalty, give it strength and power. The leaves form a crown to symbolize the ennobling achievements of our graduates. Tennessee freshwater pearls, the official state gem, suggest the inestimable value of inquiring minds. The streamer on the wooden shaft carries the names by which the University has been known since its founding. The finial at the base of the mace is a stylized nut, representing the seed from which springs the mighty tree of those committed to lifelong learning.

The chain of office worn by the president is made of sterling silver. The lapis lazuli gems, mounted on scroll shapes, represent the colleges within the University. The knotted components depict the interdependence of knowledge and the various academic programs of MTSU. The lapis lazuli and sterling represent the University colors of blue and white. The Great Seal of the State of Tennessee embellishes the medallion suspended from the chain, representing the University as part of the Tennessee higher education system.

These unique emblems of authority were designed and crafted by Professor Klaus Kallenberger, formerly of the Art Department. The mace and chain of office are a generous gift to the University from the MTSU Foundation.

MACE BEARERS

Morning

Dr. Samantha Johnson

Samantha Johnson, an assistant professor at Middle Tennessee State University since 2018, is also a proud MTSU alumna. She earned a Ph.D. in Human Performance from Middle Tennessee State University, an M.S. in Exercise Science from the University of North Alabama, and a B.S. in Exercise Science from Northern Kentucky University. She is grateful to work at a university that gives faculty access to the necessary resources for continual professional development and provision of a quality, meaningful university experience for all students.

Johnson's efforts to understand and apply best practices in teaching and learning were recently recognized with the 2022–23 Outstanding Teaching Award. Her interest in promoting high-impact teaching practices has led her to participate in several pedagogical research projects. Beyond that, she worked with a multi-institutional team to develop an open-access, peer-reviewed journal for pedagogical research in kinesiology titled Educational Practices in Kinesiology, for which she now serves as an executive editor. Additionally, she serves as a senior associate editor for the International Journal of Exercise Science, which aims to engage students in the research process, from serving as peer-reviewers to the requirement that all submitted articles have at least one student author.

She also serves as co-director of the free, virtual Student Research Week conference hosted by the International Community of Scholars in Kinesiology. Johnson conducts research that focuses on promoting longevity in older adults, aiming to improve understanding of the changes in function over time and identifying interventions to facilitate improvement or mitigate losses. Beyond these interests, she enjoys helping students pursue their own research interests, as her mentors have done for her.

Johnson serves on an action team to facilitate relationship-rich education at MTSU and is in a faculty learning community about open educational resources, working to promote the incorporation of more affordable course materials. Additionally, she is a member of MTSU's Positive Aging Consortium. Beyond the university, she serves as president of the board of directors for local nonprofit Endure Athletics. This organization's mission is to enrich the lives of homeless children and youth in Rutherford County, which is accomplished through providing safe, evidence-informed afterschool and summer camp programs.

Afternoon

Dr. Katie Schrodtt

Katie Schrodtt is an educator with nearly 20 years of experience as a classroom teacher, reading specialist, literacy consultant, and professor. Schrodtt received her B.S. in Interdisciplinary Studies at the University of North Texas. After moving to Tennessee, she completed her M.Ed. and Ph.D. at MTSU, where she was awarded Outstanding Doctoral Student. Right before graduating, Schrodtt and her husband, Jacob, had their twins Matilda and Monroe 10 weeks early at Vanderbilt hospital, where she finished her dissertation in the NICU.

From 2013–18, Schrodtt worked as a literacy consultant, adjunct professor, and full-time temporary faculty at MTSU and Lipscomb University. In 2018, she was hired in MTSU's Department of Elementary and Special Education, where she teaches undergraduate and graduate courses focused on literacy instruction and research. Schrodtt has mentored many students on projects and served on dissertation committees as affiliate faculty in the Literacy Studies Ph.D. program.

Serving teachers and children is at the heart of Schrod's work. Each semester she plans and implements communitywide literacy events and teacher professional development opportunities, including Family Literacy Nights with Read to Succeed, the Southern Kid Literary Festival with Rutherford Arts Alliance, Literacy and Math Training with Project OPTIMAL and Murfreesboro City Schools, and Writing Conferences and workshops with Middle Tennessee Writing Project.

Schrod's teaching practices have led to multiple awards and honors, including Phi Kappa Phi Influential Faculty Member, MTSU Person Who Makes a Difference, 2019–20

EXL Outstanding Faculty Award, and MTSU's 2022–23 Outstanding Teaching Award. In 2020, she gained national recognition as the recipient of the Bonnie Campbell Hill National Literacy Leader award.

Schrod's research interests include early reading and writing achievement and motivation. She has published more than 30 times and earned approximately $640,000 in grants in collaboration with her colleagues. Her work can be found in leading journals such as Reading and Writing Quarterly, The Reading Teacher, and Young Children. She is the director of the Middle Tennessee Writing Project and a consulting editor for Young Children.

Academic Regalia

The black gowns and colorful hoods traditionally worn in Middle Tennessee State University Commencement ceremonies have their origins in the Middle Ages.

A statute in England in 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” wear gowns. In the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Scholars were often clerics, as well, and they adopted costumes similar to those of monastic orders. While the special attire covered rank or social status, thus lending a uniform look to ceremonies, it also served another purpose: warmth in drafty, unheated buildings.

As the universities began to pass from the control of the church, colors often were added to the somber robes and hoods, eventually signifying the degrees and specializations.

The cut of the gown, which is usually black, also varies with the degree held—pointed sleeves for the bachelor’s degree; long, closed sleeves with a slit in the arm for the master’s degree; and round, open sleeves for the doctoral degree. While the bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no ornamentation, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three velvet bars across the sleeves.

At Middle Tennessee, hoods are worn by holders of the master’s and doctoral degrees, with the latter being longer. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the universities that conferred the degrees; thus, holders of degrees from MTSU wear hoods lined in blue and white. The velvet edging on the hood, and often the velvet edging on the gown, represents the wearer’s major academic field. Further, the velvet bars on the sleeves may be either black or the same color as the discipline color of the hood. Colors associated with various subjects follow:

Agriculture - Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities - White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business - Drab
Criminal Justice - Midnight Blue
Economics - Copper
Education - Light Blue
Fine Arts - Brown
Home Economics - Maroon
Journalism - Crimson
Law - Purple
Library Science - Lemon
Music - Pink
Nursing - Apricot
Oratory (Speech) - Silver Gray
Philosophy - Dark Blue

Physical Education - Sage Green
Public Health - Salmon
Science - Gold
Social Work - Citron

The black cap, either a mortarboard or a tam, is customarily worn. There is no general rule for the position of the tassel. In practice at Middle Tennessee State University, the tassel is worn on the right. It may be shifted to the left after the degree is awarded. Men may remove their caps during the prayer, the playing of the alma mater, and the commencement address.

Undergraduate Latin honor graduates are distinguished by the stoles added to their gowns based upon the inclusive GPA: gold for those graduating summa cum laude, 3.90 to 4.0; silver for magna cum laude, 3.75 to 3.89; and white for cum laude, 3.50 to 3.74.

Graduating from the University Honors College is an additional merit awarded to students who have completed the Honors program, defended a thesis, and have a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher. Graduates of the University Honors College who have completed at least 29 hours with a 3.25 average in the Honors program will receive blue and white cords. Those who have maintained a minimum average of 3.65 in the Honors program are graduating the University Honors College with distinction.

Since 1993, graduates of the University Honors College have received the official Honors medallion in recognition of their final thesis defense and completion of special requirements of the college. The medallion is a replica of the official seal of the University Honors College and depicts a lighted torch, three Ionic columns, and a lightning bolt. Respectively, these symbolize the search for truth and knowledge, the stability and unwavering commitment to pursuing knowledge, and the flash of enlightenment or creative energy.

Some academic honor societies and programs may provide cords, ribbons, medallions, or lapel pins designating the achievement and involvement of their members.

Military veteran students are distinguished by specially designed red stoles in recognition of their admirable service to their country.

Experiential Learning Scholars are distinguished by blue, silver, and white cords. These scholars completed EXL-designated hands-on learning courses, an off-campus service activity, an on-campus service activity, and a portfolio of reflections on their EXL activities. The EXL program provides students with opportunities for hands-on experience, valuable networking, and an opportunity to explore career paths through real-world experience.

MT Engage Scholars are distinguished by royal blue, white, and gold cords. These students completed MT Engage-designated courses that promote active learning and integrated their learning by reflecting on connections across disciplines and between their academic and cocurricular experiences. MT Engage students showcased their integrative learning in an ePortfolio that documented their community and campus involvement as well as the academic knowledge and skills they gained during their time at MTSU.

International students may wear colorful sashes that represent their country of origin. Each sash symbolizes, in color and design, their country's flag.

Undergraduate Research students graduating with Distinction are wearing a dark blue, light blue, and white cord. These students graduating with Scholar Distinction are also wearing a medallion to recognize their completion of a research or creative project, its dissemination to the MTSU campus and/or a nationally recognized conference, and their engagement in promoting undergraduate research to the campus.

Most American colleges and universities have adopted a uniform code. However, at any academic gathering, costumes often are worn that are not described by these guidelines. Some of these may be from foreign universities, with others from American institutions that have preferred to remain with the European tradition of allowing each school to determine its own costume. Silver medallions worn by faculty denote 15 years of service, and gold medallions represent 25 years.

Academic Banners

The banners displayed at Commencement represent the University; its nine colleges (Basic and Applied Sciences, Behavioral and Health Sciences, Business, Education, Liberal Arts, Media and Entertainment, Graduate Studies, University College, and University Honors); Walker Library; and the Faculty Senate. Art Professor Janet Higgins, her student Kristi Baughman, and Darrell Callis Burks, designer in Creative and Visual Services and 2000 B.F.A. graduate, designed and executed the banners. The colors used in each banner represent disciplines within the colleges. The University seal appears in the center of each banner, symbolizing that the whole is greater than any of its parts.
